Happy New Year my Fellow Foresters!

I hope that all of you had a wonderful Xmas holiday and great New Year's celebration! As of this writing our trails are still NOT open but have been recently groomed and look great, but still awaiting more snow. A very big thank you to our groomer operators and trail maintenance crews for all their wonderful work. You are all greatly appreciated! I hope that some of you have found snow until Mother Nature cooperates in our neck of the woods. I know that when I saw those groomed trails today that my pulse rate doubled! In the meantime, as far as Club business/activities are concerned I would really like to see someone head up an activities committee. This would include such things as trail rides, bonfires, a late season Xmas party and anything else that would be fun. My goal behind this is to get MORE fun things happening in the Club and something other than just the general meetings. This is just a little food *for thought but this is ALL our Club and you make of it what you wish. My wish is to have more activities and social events other than the Snow Show and the Pork Feed. Speaking of which, the Snow Show is being held at the Fox Run on Feb. 20th, 2010. They will be providing a majority of the help but we still need volunteers to run certain aspects of the show. Our other fundraiser, the Pork Feed will be held on Monday March 8th, 2010, at the Sherwood Inn. Tickets will be available starting this next meeting for members to start pre selling. We will, of course, need all the volunteers we can get for this event. Think MORE snow and have safe and happy trails.

Sincerely
Geoffrey A. Benning*

HOLIDAY OVERFLOW?????

If you bought too much canned goods or boxed goods or you received unneeded gifts remember the food pantry. Bring them to the next meeting and Ron and I will deliver them to the food pantry. They will also take good used cloths, shoes, etc.

Word from the Treasurer

If the numbers 09/10 is not part of the address you have not paid your due yet this year. They can be mailed to me if you can't make it to a meeting
See you all on Jan 11 for the meeting

Note:

The board meeting will normally be held on the Mon before the club meeting. It is open to all members, if you want to attend please call an officer or board member for the time and place.

She was in the bathroom, putting on her makeup, under the watchful eyes of her young granddaughter, as she'd done many times before. After she applied her lipstick and started to leave, the little one said, "But Grandma, you forgot to kiss the toilet paper good-bye!" I will probably never put lipstick on again without thinking about kissing the toilet paper good-bye....

My young grandson called the other day to wish me Happy Birthday. He asked me how old I was, and I told him, 62. My grandson was quiet for a moment, and then he asked, "Did you start at 1?"

After putting her grandchildren to bed, a grandmother changed into old slacks and a droopy blouse and proceeded to wash her hair. As she heard the children getting more and more rambunctious, her patience grew thin. Finally, she threw a towel around her head and stormed into their room, putting them back to bed with stern warnings. As she left the room, she heard the three-year-old say with a trembling voice, "Who was THAT?"

A grandmother was telling her little granddaughter what her own childhood was like. "We used to skate outside on a pond. I had a swing made from a tire; it hung from a tree in our front yard. We rode our pony. We picked wild raspberries in the woods." The little girl was wide-eyed, taking this all in. At last she said, "I sure wish I'd gotten to know you sooner!"

My grandson was visiting one day when he asked, "Grandma, do you know how you and God are alike?" I mentally polished my halo and I said, "No, how are we alike?" "You're both old," he replied.

A little girl was diligently pounding away on her grandfather's word processor. She told him she was writing a story.

"What's it about?" he asked.

"I don't know," she replied. "I can't read."

I didn't know if my granddaughter had learned her colors yet, so I decided to test her. I would point out something and ask what color it was. She would tell me and was always correct. It was fun for me, so I continued. At last, she headed for the door, saying, "Grandma, I think you should try to figure out some of these colors yourself!"

When my grandson Billy and I entered our vacation cabin, we kept the lights off until we were inside to keep from attracting pesky insects. Still, a few fireflies followed us in. Noticing them before I did, Billy whispered, "It's no use Grandpa. Now the mosquitoes are coming after us with flashlights."

When my grandson asked me how old I was, I teasingly replied, "I'm not sure." "Look in your underwear Grandpa," he advised "Mine says I'm 4 to 6."

A second grader came home from school and said to her grandmother, "Grandma, guess what? We learned how to make babies today." The grandmother, more than a little surprised, tried to keep her cool. "That's interesting," she said. "How do you make babies?" "It's simple," replied the girl. "You just change 'y' to 'l' and add 'es'."

Children's Logic: "Give me a sentence about a public servant," said a teacher. The small boy wrote: "The fireman came down the ladder pregnant." The teacher took the lad aside to correct him. "Don't you know what pregnant means?" she asked.

"Sure," said the young boy confidently. "It means carrying a child."

A grandfather was delivering his grandchildren to their home one day when a fire truck zoomed past. Sitting in the front seat of the fire truck was a Dalmatian dog. The children started discussing the dog's duties. "They use him to keep crowds back," said one child. "No," said another. "He's just for good luck." A third child brought the argument to a close. "They use the dogs," she said firmly, "to find the fire hydrants."

A 6-year-old was asked where his grandma lived. "Oh," he said, "she lives at the airport, and when we want her, we just go get her. Then, when we're done having her visit, we take her back to the airport."

Grandpa is the smartest man on earth! He teaches me good things, but I don't get to see him enough to get as smart as him!

My Grandparents are funny, when they bend over, you hear gas leaks and they blame their dog.
